CASE NO. 2005-00380

Response to First Data Request of Commission Staff Dated 4/18/06

Question No. 1

Responding Witness: Mike Lowery, Manager, Customer Accounting

- Q-1. Provide copies of all bills for the account at 59 Alexis CV from July 30, 2003 until present, and note on each bill whether the reading was estimated or actual.
- A-1. Copies of full detail bills are only retained for a period of 24 months. Copies of bills for this account during the period from April 15, 2004 to the present are attached. CIS screen prints of billing information for this account during the period beginning June 16, 2003 through April 15, 2004 are also attached. As reflected in these documents, all readings for this account were actual, except in July, 2004, and January, 2005.

CASE NO. 2005-00380

Response to First Data Request of Commission Staff Dated 4/18/06

Question No. 2

Responding Witness: Joan M. Renfrow, Manager, Meter Reading Process

Q-2. Provide the history for all meters used at 59 Alexis CV from July 30, 2003 until present.

A-2. Electric meter number 756284 was placed into service at this address on December 4, 2002, with a "00000" reading. Mr. Ford first contacted LG&E customer service on February 22, 2005, with complaints about his high bill. In April, 2005, a high bill exam was completed on this account. An LG&E service person traced the meter and found that it appropriately supplied 59 Alexis Cove. At that time, the meter read as "12291." On May 24, 2005, Mr. Ford's electric meter number 756284 was replaced by electric meter number 686625. At that time, meter number 756284 read "12421" and, on June 6, 2005, that meter was again read as "12421" and tested at 99.87% accuracy, in conformity with 807 KAR 5:041, Section 15(2). LG&E also notes that electrical consumption at 59 Alexis Cove has steadily decreased over the past four winters, with total KWH for the five months from December to April amounting to 6089, 3081, 1436, and 17 for the 2002-03, 2003-04, 2004-05, and 2005-06 periods respectively.

A listing of all meter readings for this account since July 16, 2003, is attached hereto.
